

Sun Goes Down

I look at the east
I look at the west
I'm stuck in the middle
Mediocre at best
I'm not convinced, but I promise myself
That I'm not alone
And it doesn't help
Cause everything's moving, moving too fast
No one can answer the question I have

CHORUS

Everybody's looking around
We all watch the same sun go down
We don't want to believe this is how it should be
But we're all just a face in the crowd
When the sun goes down
What did I miss
There's got to be something bigger than this
Can somebody tell me what's going on
Cause every time I get there it's already gone
Cause everything's moving, moving too fast
I'm taking it in
It's not gonna last

CHORUS

Everybody wants to belong
We all play the same lonesome song
We don't want to believe this is how it should be
But we're all just a face in the crowd
When the sun goes down
It's like the sky is falling
And there's nothing I can do
So I just keep on walking

I look at the east
I look at the west
I'm stuck in the middle
Mediocre at best

CHORUS

We don't want to admit that we're really not free
We all look the same and that's not gonna change
Cause we're all just a face in the crowd
When the sun goes down
